EMPLOYEE ATTRITION ANALYSIS

Workforce Stability & Employee Retention Insights

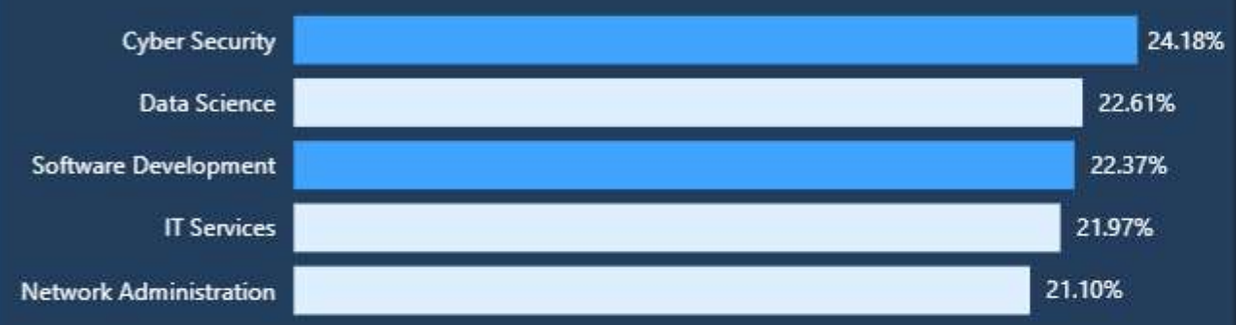
Overview | Drivers | Risk Segments

10000	2247	22.47%	$114,493
Total Employees	Attrition Count	Attrition Rate	Average Salary

Job_Level: All

Department: All

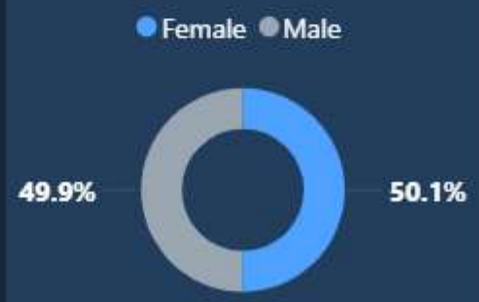
Attrition by Department



Attrition Rate By Job Level

Attrition By Job Role

Employee Distribution by Gender



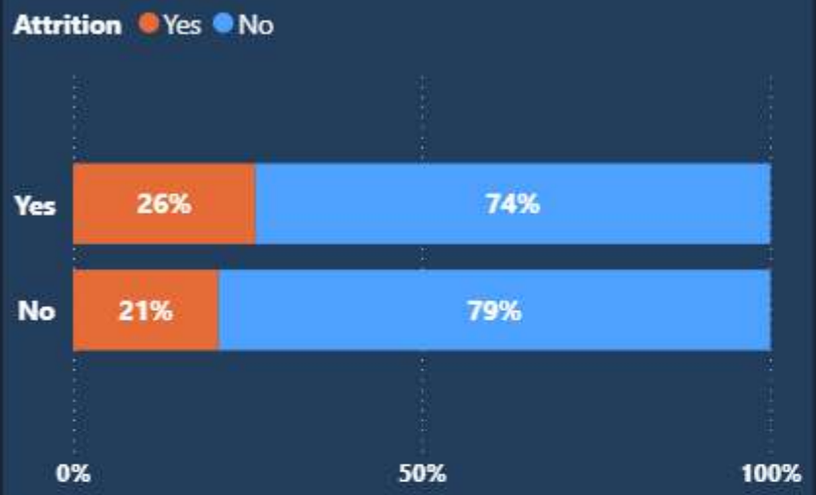
Key Insights

- Cyber Security shows the highest attrition rate at 24.18%.
- Network Administration records the lowest attrition at 21.10%.
- Attrition rates across departments range between 21% and 24%, indicating moderate variation.
- Executive level employees represent the largest workforce segment.

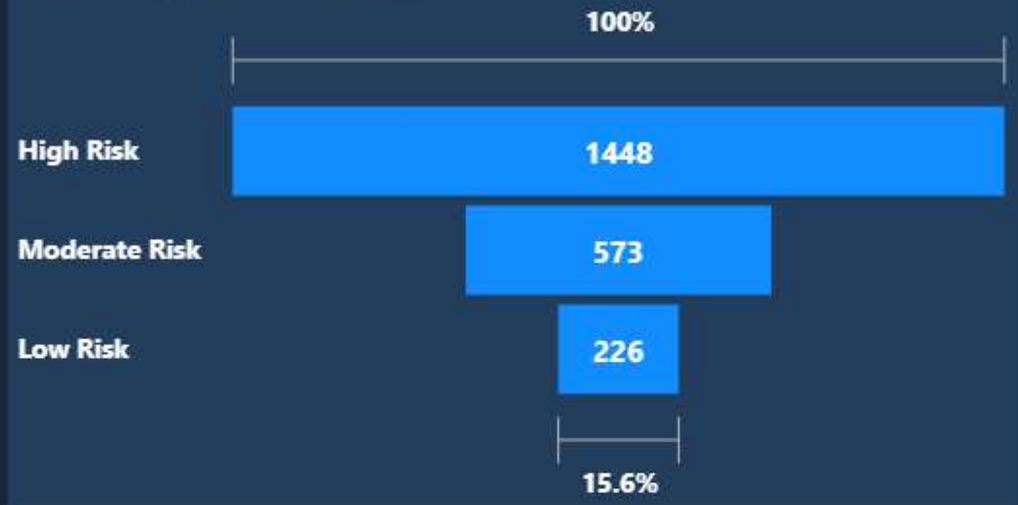
EMPLOYEE ATTRITION ROOT CAUSES

Overview | Drivers | Risk Segments

Overtime Employees Show Higher Attrition

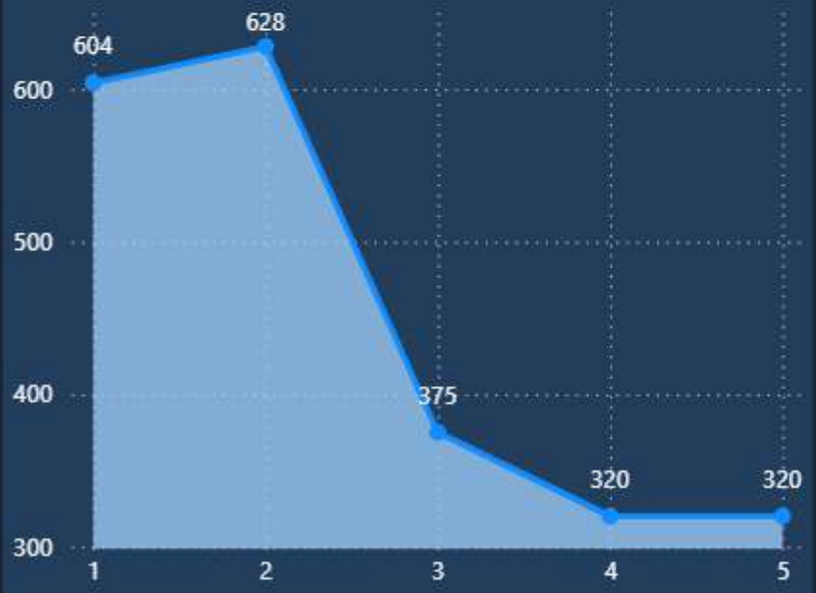


Attrition by Promotion Risk



Attrition Peaks in Mid–High Salary Bands

Attrition By Work-Life Balance



Attrition by Commute Distance Group

Key Insights

- Employees working overtime show higher attrition (26%) compared to those without overtime (21%).
- Employees classified under High Promotion Risk account for the largest share of exits.
- Attrition increases significantly in the mid salary bands (80K–160K).
- Employees reporting low work-life balance ratings (1–2) show the highest attrition levels.

EMPLOYEE HIGH RISK SEGMENTS

Overview | Drivers | Risk Segments

1197
Employees With High Burnout Risk

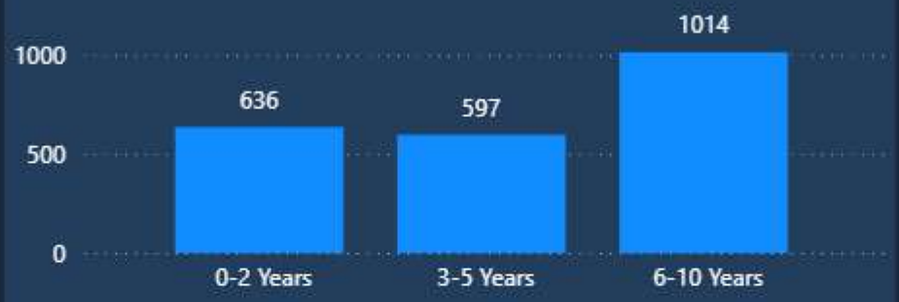
5543
Employees with High Promotion Risk

2761
Employees in Early Tenure (0–2 Years)

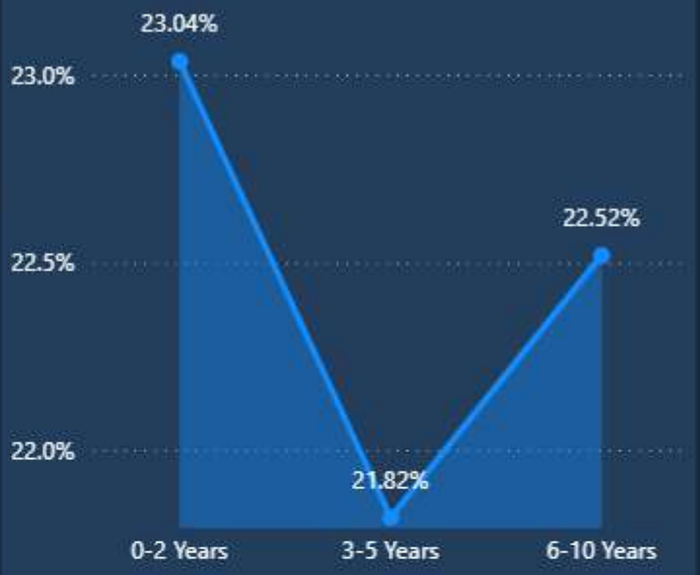
Promotion Risk Hotspots by Job Level

Job_Level_Group	High Risk	Low Risk	Moderate Risk
Entry Level	343	56	142
Executive	562	84	219
Mid Level	173	27	63
Senior Level	370	59	149

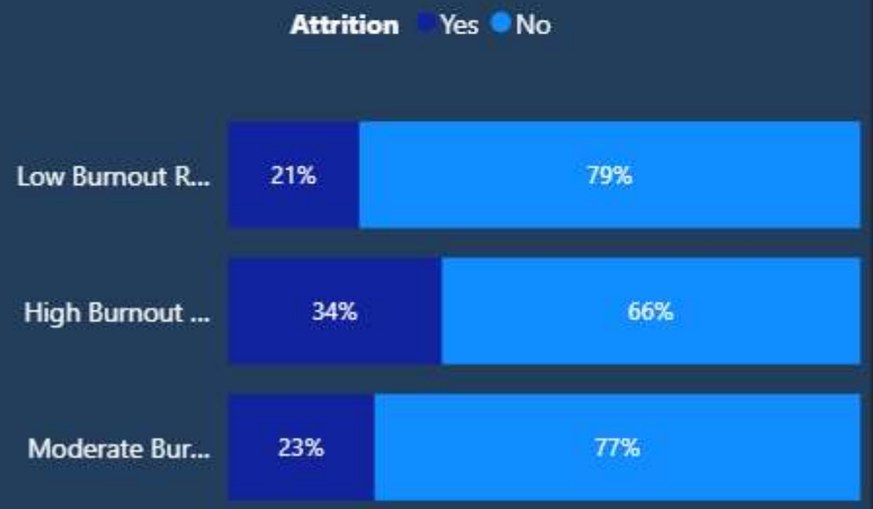
Attrition Count by Employee Tenure



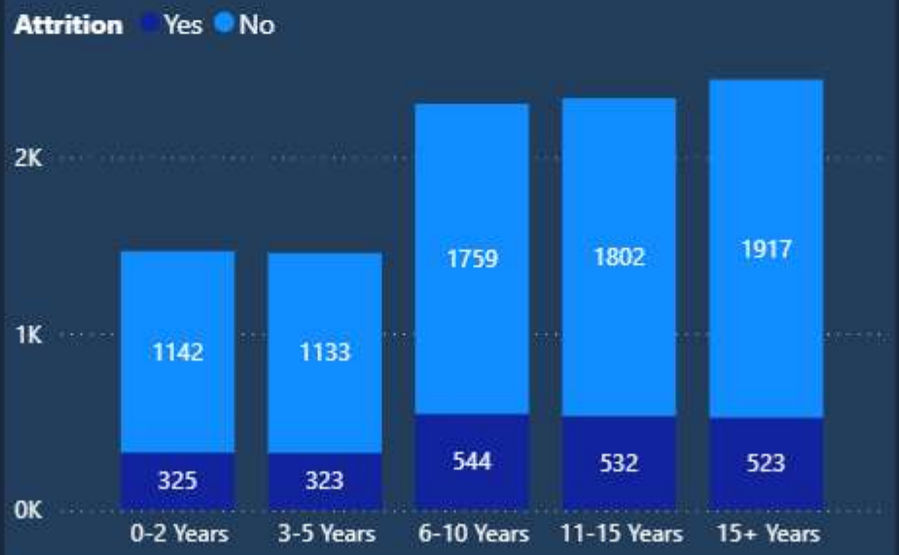
Attrition Rate by Tenure_Group



Attrition Rate By Burnout Risk



Attrition Count by Experience Level



KEY INSIGHTS

- Executives experiencing high promotion risk account for the largest share of exits (562 employees), indicating potential career stagnation at senior levels.
- Employees with high burnout risk experience the highest attrition rate (34%), significantly higher than employees with low burnout risk (21%).
- Employees with 6–10 years of tenure record the highest attrition count (1014 exits), suggesting increased turnover among mid-career professionals.
- Employees in early tenure (0–2 years) show the highest attrition rate (23%), highlighting the importance of onboarding and early engagement strategies.